Orange County Government-funded Program Volunteer Is Awarded SBDC's Regional Volunteer of the Year

Nancy Krug, President of Practical Leadership Strategies, was awarded Regional Volunteer of the Year for Central Florida by the Florida Small Business Development Center Network. Nominated by the Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at UCF, Nancy was selected due to her tireless service to the SBDC at UCF's award-winning, Orange County Government-funded program, the Advisory Board Council. Regional and state volunteer awards winners were announced at the Florida SBDC Network's state conference in Clearwater Beach, June 12-14.

Nancy's relationship with the SBDC at UCF began when she sought assistance for her own business venture in 2002. Once she succeeded in starting her operations improvement and turn-around consulting company, Nancy began volunteering her services to the SBDC at UCF in 2004. Nancy has served on an impressive six volunteer advisory boards for the Advisory Board Council. Her in-depth knowledge of the SBDC program combined with her experience as an entrepreneur and a senior executive for large firms, made her uniquely qualified to assist SBDC clients seeking to take their businesses to the next level.

The Advisory Board Council is an economic development program within the SBDC at UCF and is funded by Orange County Government. The Advisory Board Council act as a matchmaker between established Orange County businesses and area professionals who volunteer their expertise at no cost as members of an advisory board.
